Finally, You Have A Proven Option Other Than Drugs And Surgery.

New research in a treatment called low level laser therapy, or cold laser, is having a profound affect on patients suffering with shoulder pain. Unlike the cutting type of laser seen in movies and used in medical procedures, the cold laser penetrates the surface of the skin with no heating effect or damage.

Cold laser therapy has been tested for 40 years, had over 2000 papers published on it and been shown to aid in damaged tissue regeneration, decrease inflammation, relieve pain and boost the immune system. This means that there is a good chance cold laser therapy could be your shoulder pain solution, allowing you to live a more active lifestyle

Professional athletes like Lance Armstrong and team members of the New England Patriots rely upon cold laser therapy to treat their sports-related injuries. These guys use the cold laser for one reason only...

It Promotes Rapid Healing Of The Injured Tissues

Two landmark studies have proven the effectiveness of cold lasers.

The first study showed that patients who had cold laser therapy had 53% better improvement than those who just had a placebo. The second study showed patients who used laser therapy had less pain and more range of motion days after treatment. If cold laser can help these patients, it can help you too.

Here's what one patient has to say:

When first came into Anew Health I had been experiencing a long list of problems but what had bothered me the most when I had first come in was my shoulder. I had been struggling with frequent dislocations and a lot of pain in simple movements. In addition to pain my movement was very limited. I learned quickly that any movement above my head was no longer going to be possible for me and it started to affect the thing I loved to do most, track and field. I had been experiencing pain while moving my shoulder for running as well as dealing with dislocations out of starting blocks. Being a student on the UWSP campus I had been to the trainers for almost a year before I started see Dr. Margaret Mertens, but the trainers seemed to have temporary fixes and shoved me out of the door. After having enough of the trainers and other chiropractors in Stevens Point, I came to Anew Health. Dr Mertens just took one look at the way I was standing, did some muscular tests, and asked me a few simple questions and within the first meeting she was able to actually help me get better! The adjustments first helped with my pain and the Doc showed me some stretches that I could do, as well as applied Rock Tape to help me. There were simple movements that I could find myself doing without pain after just a couple visits, like lifting things above my head or just being able to fully extend my arm up! Doc and the team then gave me some exercises that I could do at home to strengthen my joint and create stability. I have been injury free in my shoulder for over a year now which is an accomplishment that I didn't think was going to happen. Dr. Mertens and the team provided me with the help that I needed by listening to my needs as an athlete and a person and applied their best knowledge to get me back to healthy! As an athlete it is super important to have the confidence in the movements that I make, or it will hinder my performance and Anew Health has allowed me to regain that confidence. It is a worry of the past now and I don't think about the possibility of shoulder pain in sports or in daily life and it is all thanks to Dr. Margaret Mertens and the team at Anew Health!

I now recommend Anew Health to just about anybody that has any type of pain (which for a sports team is just about everybody.) I wish for other people who have been feeling pain, especially without answer, the type of care that Anew Health has brought me because I believe it is the best care!
